YOUR Home Emergency Plan

Emergencies can affect our parishes with little or no notice. Being prepared can help reduce the effects on your families' lives, reduce the need for help from others and enable you to support the vulnerable in your community.

Disruption to essential services such as water, electricity and telecoms to regional and national travel; there are many ways an emergency can affect our busy everyday lives.

Keep your plan and other important information in a safe place that you will find again quickly.

You could keep your plan in a 'message in a bottle' in your fridge. Bottles are available free of charge from most doctor's surgeries and chemists and give emergency services vital information such as medical conditions and repeat prescriptions.

If you have children in your household, or others who need help with understanding what to do, you could get them to write and draw their own plans, to help them learn about emergency events.

Q1

What are the risks to your home and the surrounding area?
Are you at risk of flooding?

To find out if you live in an area at risk from flooding, visit <https://www.gov.uk/check-flood-risk> where you can find out if your home is at risk and sign-up to Flood Warnings Direct (a free service which sends you a message when there is a flood risk by telephone, mobile, email, SMS text message, fax, or via a relative/friend).

You can also sign up by calling Floodline on 0345 988 1188/Typetalk on 0845 602 6340.

If you are in an area that may flood, have sandbags and boards ready to help stop water entering through doors or air bricks.
Where do you get these from?

Brentor Parish Council can supply sandbags - please contact Cllr David Percival if you require some.

Notes:

Q2

Do all household members know how and when to telephone emergency services? If they don't, instruct them how to do this.

Notes:

Q3

How will you get out of the house/area if you need to escape?
Think about what to do if a route is blocked. If it is helpful, draw a plan of escape routes.

Notes:

Q4

What are the emergency procedures at your children's schools?
During an incident, it may not be safe to collect children from school.

Schools have emergency plans so pupils will be cared for.

If you are still worried during an incident, contact the school first.

Notes:

Q5

Do any elderly, disabled or vulnerable family members, friends and neighbours need your help, or additional help from the emergency services? Information may not reach some people as quickly. For example, deaf and/or blind people or people who do not speak English/have other needs?

How could you help them?

Notes:

Does your Parish/Town Council have a support scheme in place and are vulnerable neighbours aware of it?

YES – Brentor Community Support (Brentor Church and Moor Compassionate Neighbours) Contact: Christopher Pancheri on 01822 810285/07904 983958 or email community.support@bmcneighbours.org

Q6

Where will you meet if you become separated – a nearby landmark or a friend's house? Also, agree an alternative meeting place further away from your home.

Notes:

Q7ICE (In Case of Emergency)

Contact Number

The emergency services are trained to check for a person's ICE contact number which stands for 'In Case of Emergency.'

Think carefully about who you choose as an ICE contact because that person may need to give consent for medical treatment. If you want more than one ICE contact, mark them as ICE1, ICE2 etc.

Put ICE contacts in all mobile phones, or on a card in wallets/purses. If your phone is password protected then use the card method or make it visible on the 'start up' screen.

Notes:

Q8

Where is your safe, secure place for important papers (passport, birth/insurance certificates etc.) and items of high sentimental value such as old family photos? Are these raised above potential flood levels and easy to grab (in one box) if you need to take them with you? Is the box fire-proof? Have you stored important computer records on a USB/cloud/external hard drive?

Notes:

Q9

Do you have emergency supplies (ideally in an 'emergency bag') that you can grab quickly? Where are they kept?

Notes:

Q10

What you would do if you lost all power and communications (including satellite communications such as mobile phones). Do you have a battery or wind-up FM Radio? Make a note of the FM frequency of your local radio station. Consider purchasing a corded landline phone – this will be powered by the telephone network and does not need the mains electricity supply. Remember mobile phones can be charged in the car. Do you have a camping stove with fuel?

Notes:

Q11

Does everyone in the household know how to make the home secure – locking doors and windows? Always keep keys in the same location and somewhere they can be found easily in the dark. Where is that?

Notes:

Q12

Have you installed smoke detectors and a carbon monoxide detector? If not, don't delay installing. When did you last check them? Don't delay - they could save lives. If you need help or advice, or to find out if you qualify for a free home safety visit, contact your local Fire and Rescue Service.

Notes:

Q13

Have you got adequate home insurance? Make a note of your current insurance provider and your insurance policy number.

Notes:

Q14

Do you keep in your kitchen cupboard enough bottled water, snacks, tinned or dried/packet food to last three days? (how much do you need per person?). This will reduce the tendency for “panic buying” during bad weather or strikes, which can be very disruptive. Check sell by dates every six to twelve months.

Notes:

Q15

Have you made a list of medication, insurance policy numbers and important phone numbers such as your doctor, insurance provider, Floodline, NHS Direct*, non-emergency number, gas and electric supplier, vet, school, work and close friends/relatives? Make sure you always carry this list, for example on a card in your purse or wallet, or mobile phone.

*If you have a ‘smart’ mobile phone, you could download the NHS Direct App form.

Notes:

Your emergency supplies:

It helps if you can grab these things quickly. Ideally make up an 'emergency bag.' Do not stop to collect things if it puts you in danger!

These are things you may need:

- Essential keys (house/car).
- Special daily items (for example, glasses/contact lenses/medication/aids).
- List of medication. This is essential, please make a list!
- Cash/debit/credit cards.
- Essential items for babies, children and people you care for.
- Mobile phone and charger.
- Antibacterial hand gel and mini first aid kit.
- Face masks and disposable gloves
- Water and snacks
- Warm layers and waterproof clothing, suitable hats and footwear.

Items for pets and assistance animals:

contents will depend on the type of pet, but you may need to grab:

- Water, food and bowls.
- Lease/muzzle/harness.
- Blanket, bed, pet carrier or cage.
- Photo of your pet in case it gets lost and is not 'identity chipped.'
- Plastic bags for waste.
- Medication and health records.
- Identity chip number (keep a record in your phone or wallet/purse).

Items in the car:

In case of an emergency always carry in your car (in addition to the things you probably always carry:

- Blankets
- Torch
- Map
- First Aid Kit
- Shovel and de-icer in winter conditions.
- Warning triangle and fire extinguisher (recommended)

If you need to remain in your home or become isolated, make sure you have the following items:

- First Aid Kit including flu and cold medication.
- Wind up or battery radio including spare batteries.
- Wind up or battery torch with spare batteries/candles and matches.
- Enough toiletries such as soap, sanitary items and tissues or toilet roll.
- A three-day food and water supply. Tinned and dried food: beans and rice are good.
- Camping stove and fuel. Only use indoors in an emergency. Always place on a stable surface and use in a well-ventilated area with a carbon monoxide detector.
- Keep important documents and computer information in ONE safe place and make sure you can grab these items quickly if you need to.
- Do not forget - does a friend or family member have spare keys should you lose yours?
