

STOP DOORSTEP CRIME

KEEP THEM OUT

Advice from Trading Standards South West on how to protect yourself from rogue traders and doorstep crime.

WHAT IS DOORSTEP CRIME?

Genuine traders will not call uninvited at your door and try to persuade you that work needs doing to your home or garden.

Rogue traders will often approach your home directly. Some will even try to make themselves look more genuine by phoning first to make an appointment, producing glossy leaflets, or advertise in papers and local directories.

Doorstep callers might come across as charming and friendly, or they could be threatening and aggressive. A smiley face or not, they plan to try and trick you into agreeing to let them do work. If you agree they'll over-charge for shoddy work, which they might not even complete and probably wasn't necessary in the first place.

TIPS TO HELP KEEP YOU SAFE:

Never agree to have work done over the telephone or in your home by a cold caller.

Do your research and don't rely on posts or recommendations on social media sites or trader approval platforms.

Obtain three different quotes and ask family and friends for recommendations.

Don't be rushed into making a decision – genuine traders will allow you time to think and won't pressure you to start work straight away.

Don't pay cash or transfer money to the trader before work has begun.

IF IN DOUBT, KEEP THEM OUT

IF YOU
DON'T KNOW
WHO IS KNOCKING
AT YOUR DOOR –
DON'T OPEN
THE DOOR

If the person refuses to leave, or you feel threatened or scared, call the police on 999.

To deter rogue traders, display a "No Cold Callers" sticker on your door.

These are available from your local Trading Standards service or can be requested at www.tssw.org/about/

REPORT DOORSTEP CRIME

It's never too late to ask for advice even if; the work has begun, you've signed paperwork, or you've paid money.

You can get advice or report an incident by contacting Trading Standards via the Citizens Advice Consumer Service.

You may use the form in this leaflet to help you to have the information to hand when you call.
